& INSIDE ON THE MARKET: SPAIN | NEW YORK

PING a series of 4 containers designed by Andras Rigler, originates from a penguin Soviet tin toy that was a part of the designer's childhood. The toy, which once sat in Rigler's grandparents' food cupboard, has since morphed into a redefined family of ceramic containers that are not just functional, but also company for everyday life.

The PING family consists of the baby, the mommy and daddy versions, and lastly, the "Grand Pere" version that completes the collection, igniting this year's festivities with joy and happiness. petitefriture.com
